EXPERIENCE

Chris Jordan is a litigator with a broad range of experience at the trial and appellate level. Chris maintains an active business litigation practice in state and federal courts across Georgia. He regularly advises clients on all aspects of dispute resolution in matters involving commercial real estate, land use, business dissolution, corporate governance, banking, and fiduciary issues. For much of his career, he has also defended some of the country's largest companies in product liability, toxic tort, and other complex litigation matters throughout the Southeast.

He is a frequent speaker to groups in Georgia and across the country on issues involving business litigation, product liability, transportation law, and other complex litigation topics. Chris is also a member of the product liability team for ALFA International, a global legal networking organization.

A graduate of Duke University (2000) and Vanderbilt University School of Law (2003), he began his career at a large firm in Atlanta before moving to St. Simons Island, where he is originally from.

Chris is an active member of the Coastal Georgia community. He is a 2022 graduate of Leadership Georgia and a 2008 graduate of Leadership Glynn. He is a past member of the board of directors of the STAR Foundation, a job training and life skills program in Brunswick, Georgia. He is a current member of the board of directors for Hand in Hand, a nonprofit organization constructing "tiny homes" for the local homeless population.
